B.C. Minimum Wages Raised By Board Order 20 Per Cent

Minimum wage floors for 150,000 British Columbia workers will be increased an average of 20 per cent July 1, it was announced today by the Board of Industrial Relations.

Adam Bell, board chairman, explained that these new orders do not mean an increase in wages for every worker, but mean only that workers receiving less than the legal minimum must have their wages raised to the legal minimum.

"The wages of the great majority of workers who are already receiving more than the legal minimum remain unaffected," he said.

Seven orders have been completely revised, making the following increases:

1. Barbering (male) from $18 to $25 per week.

2. Shipbuilding (male) tradesmen increased from 67½ cents per hour to 90 cents per hour; ordinary labor, 60 cents, with a 45-cent rate available for 10 per cent of the total number of employees in the case of less experienced help.

3. Office workers (female) $15 increased to $18 per week, with a learner rate ranging progressively from $12 to $16 weekly for a six-month period.

4. Hotels and restaurants (male and female) increased from $14 to $18 weekly, with a learner rate for six months ranging from $14 to $16 weekly.

5. Fruit and vegetable canneries and packing houses: Female employees raised from 30 to 40 cents per hour, with overtime rates of time and one-half and double time after nine hours work and 11 hours, respectively; male employees raised from 38 cents to 48 cents per hour with the same overtime provisions.

6. Laundry, cleaning and dyeing (male and female) raised from 31 cents to 40 cents per hour with a six-month learner period ranging from 31 cents to 37 cents per hour.

Beside these specific increases 37 remaining orders have been covered by an interim general order making a 20 per cent increase in all the minimums embodied thereby by way of a temporary measure until such time as the board is able to revise these orders individually.

The 44-hour week legislation, passed by the B.C. Legislature at the session last spring, also comes into effect July 1 with respect to such industrial undertakings as are covered by the Hours of Work Act, Mr. Bell said.

"By interim regulations under the Hours Act, the board has made the temporary allowance that where an industry has been permitted an extension over the 44-hour week will be continued until new regulations in each case have been drawn up," said Mr. Bell.

The new orders of the Board of Industrial Relations, promised for some years, represent the most sweeping changes in the minimum wage laws of British Columbia since long before the war.

The purpose of the new orders is to prevent employers from slashing wages extensively when labor supplies, short during the war, increase. These orders will permit employees to retain some of the salary gains made during the war years.

Moscow May Tell Molotov To End Trieste Deadlock

PARIS (AP) — French newspapers printed unconfirmed reports today that Foreign Minister Y. M. Molotov was expecting a telephone call from Moscow which might bring a surprise development in the Trieste issue, key to Italian peace negotiations.

"State Secretary Byrnes of the United States was represented by American informants as encouraged by a series of private talks with Mr. Molotov, who has been adamant in demanding Trieste be transferred from Italy to Yugoslavia.

DISCUSS COLONIES

A special commission set up by the Foreign Ministers' Council to break the deadlock on the question of Italy's colonies meanwhile held its first meeting today. The members declined to give any hint of what was discussed.

Agreement has been reached to defer final disposition of the colonies, but details have to be worked out.

Although the Foreign Ministers may have been more optimistic concerning working out an agreement on Trieste, a Yugoslav spokesman took an uncompromising attitude in an interview today.

The spokesman for Marshal Tito stated flatly that a French compromise for a 10-year internationalization of Trieste was not acceptable, and that Tito's government would never sign a peace treaty with Italy which does not provide for a Yugoslav "solution" on Trieste.

"THE REPUBLIC"

The Yugoslav "solution" is for the creation of a "seventh Yugoslav Republic," embracing the city.

Messrs. Byrnes and Molotov talked for more than an hour Tuesday afternoon in their third private meeting in less than a week. Mr. Byrnes later conferred separately with British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Georges Bidault, French President and Foreign Minister, apparently to advise them of the progress of his talks with Mr. Molotov.

Developments at the formal sessions of the Council Tuesday were limited to discussions of minor economic phases of the Italian treaty, and belief was expressed by Mr. Molotov would not consent to any important decisions until he obtains a verdict on the Trieste issue.

Rainfall For June Is Double Normal

June, so far, has been colder and wetter than usual, but there is no special reason for the coolness and extra precipitation, according to the Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill. It just happens, once in a while.

Rainfall to date in June has been about double the normal total. It was learned from the observatory, and the weather has been slightly cooler than usual.

"But it isn't our wettest June," said the weather observer, "and there have been cooler times. Periods of weather like this occur from time to time."

Urge Arbitrator In Mines Dispute

"The B.C. government has suggested" to Ottawa that a special commissioner be appointed in an effort to avert a strike of 2,500 hardrock miners July 3.

Good Progress In Lumber Talks

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan this afternoon reported good progress had been made today toward settlement of the dispute of the interior woodworkers and the operators.

The Chief Justice made this statement following a 2½-hour-long meeting at the courthouse with representatives of the International Woodworkers of America (I.O.W.A.) and representatives of the operators.

B.C. Senator Dies; Sick Long Time

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Alexander Duncan McRae of Vancouver, 71, the man who piloted the Conservative victory in the general election of 1930, died in an Ottawa hospital today after a prolonged but sporadic illness.

For years a major figure in western Canada, he died of internal hemorrhages of the stomach and liver, accompanied by a serious blood condition. Death came at 1:15 p.m. E.D.T., after a week in the hospital.

His passing created a sixth vacancy in the Senate. Sixty-five of the remaining 90 seats are held by Liberals, 25 by Progressive Conservatives.

In his time, Senator McRae was a banker, colonist, industrialist, soldier and politician, but his intimates remember him chiefly for his powers of promotion and organization. They remember him as a man quite willing to gamble on a venture in land, fishing, logging or mining, quite willing to take a heavy loss and go back for more.

Those characteristics made him one of the rich men in Canada.

BORN IN ONTARIO

A native of Glencoe, Ont., he and his associates in the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company made $9,000,000 in the early years of the 20th century by buying and selling land in that prairie province. By encouraging settlement, they increased the prairie province population by some 250,000 persons.

He went to British Columbia in 1907, organized important lumber and fishing firms and became an important landowner. During the First Great War he rose to become Quartermaster-General of the Canadian forces overseas as a major-general. For his wartime service he was made a C.B.

Once leader of the short-lived Provincial Party in British Columbia, he was elected to Parliament in 1926 as Conservative member for North Vancouver, but lost his seat in 1930. He was Conservative organizer in that campaign when the party, led by Bennett, won at the polls.

He was disappointed by the failure of Prime Minister Bennett to give him a cabinet post and went to the Senate in 1931.

Senator McRae established what is known as the McRae Farm at Qualicum Beach. There, some years ago, he built a large residence, one of the up-island show places where he lavishly entertained his friends. Many notables were the senator's guests at Qualicum.

Train-Truck Crash In Texas Kills 9

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Nine were killed and 15 injured Tuesday night when a passenger train crashed into a truckload of Latin-American agricultural workers three miles west of here.

The victims and wreckage of the truck were scattered for 150 feet along the right-of-way.

Three of the injured were in a critical condition today. Six men and two women died when a Missouri Pacific locomotive struck the truck Tuesday night at 8:25 p.m., C.S.T. No occupant of the truck escaped injury. The injured lay along the rails for 30 minutes until ambulances arrived from Harlingen and Mercedes.

Capt. Marvin Gordon of the state highway patrol said a string of freight cars along the siding at the crossing made it blind for both the locomotive engineer and the driver of the truck.

World Cereal Position May Show Improvement By Autumn Of 1947

LONDON (CP) — Food Minister John Strachey, fresh from a flying trip to Canada and the United States, where he discussed world food problems, said today at a press conference that the cereal position might improve fairly rapidly by autumn, 1947.

If there were two good world harvests.

Mr. Strachey assayed his trip as a "good seven days' work" though he returned to Britain without signing a wheat agreement with Canada. He said, however, he thought there were good prospects such an agreement would go through.

"Perhaps the most useful thing of all," he said, "was to sit and discuss our food situation with Prime Minister King and Agriculture Minister Gardiner and other Canadian and United States ministers and officials.

High political circles said agreement in principle was reached on a long-term wheat agreement with Canada, with only some technical details to be thrashed out before signing.

The minister said neither Canada nor the United States could do much to ease the shortage of fats which, he added, in the past has been as serious as the grain situation.

"The position remains exactly the same as before," he went on. "If his trip had affected immediate prospects of bread rationing which Britain has been led to believe is imminent although no definite announcement has yet been made.

He said the prospect for Canadian and U.S. harvests have improved in the last two or three weeks, which is "very important" to Britain. He still hoped to be able to introduce more variety into British diet in the form of fruit, fruit juices and dried eggs.

Mr. Strachey will attend a cabinet meeting tomorrow, when he will give the ministers the latest information on the food situation. If bread rationing is decided on it is believed Prime Minister Attlee will make a statement to that effect after the meeting.

Report Siam's King Victim Of Assassin

BANGKOK (AP) — A reliable report today said medical evidence secretly studied by a board of 18 physicians supports to a considerable extent that youthful King Ananda Mahidol was the victim of an assassin.

The 20-year-old monarch was found dead in his apartment June 9.

The official report to Parliament the next day said he had accidentally shot himself and that the bullet had gone through the forehead.

There were numerous rumors, however, that the king either had committed suicide because of a thwarted love affair or because of dissatisfaction with his role as monarch, or that he had been killed by reactionary royalists.

Castings To Be Labelled 'Unfair'

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.L.) disregarded protests of delegates from United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) here Tuesday night and voted to label all castings made here as imported "unfair to organized labor."

The motion was introduced by Local 289, Metal and Chemical Workers (C.I.O.), whose members are on strike against 35 city foundries.

Council executives have been instructed to arrange a meeting of representatives from the local and the A.F.L. Molders' Union with John Mitchell, Steelworkers' district director, in an effort to iron out inter-union differences on unfair work and jurisdictional matters in the foundry strike.

Pea Baskin, Steelworkers' regional director, said the unfair motion would embarrass locals of his union and Steelworkers could not live up to it.

Efforts To Bring Tourists Lauded

High praise was bestowed upon E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of the B.C. Department of Trade and Industry, and personnel of the B.C. Government Travel Bureau for the excellent work they had done and are still doing to attract an ever-increasing flow of tourists to Victoria and the island, by Ralph Matthews on behalf of the Kiwanis Club at Tuesday luncheon meeting.

Mr. Rowebottom, W. H. Currie, bureau commissioner, and Clarence Ferris and R. L. Colby, members of the camera department, were guests at the luncheon and Mr. Matthews spoke of the great deal the citizens owed them for their efforts, which contributed much to the wealth of the city.

This was followed by the first showing of the Travel Bureau's new technicolor moving picture depicting the rich, scenic beauties of the central part of the province over the P.G.E. rail route from Squamish into the heart of the Cariboo country.

Dave McMillan, chairman in the absence of the president, paid glowing tribute to the late J. W. Spencer. "We mourn the passing of a great man," Mr. McMillan declared, "for he was always willing to lend his support to projects for the good of the community and the country." The chairman noted Mr. Spencer was a charter member of Kiwanis and was a past-president. Sam Clark introduced two new members, James Genge and Dr. Alan F. McGill.

INDIA'S BARELEGGED NATIVES ARE EASY MARKS FOR COBRAS

Among the world's snakes, two of the most deadly are the coral snakes of this continent and the cobras of India. Rattle-snake poison is powerful, but it is less dangerous than that of either the coral snake or the cobra. India is the chief home of cobras, and it is the place where most persons die from their bites. In an average year, from 15,000 to 20,000 of the people there lose their lives as the result of attacks by these serpents.

In a few minutes a person who suffers a bite will pass away, unless quick action is taken. The "quick action" may be cutting off an arm or leg which has been bitten. Even this may fail to save the victim.

Cobras live in fields and jungles. Sometimes they take up quarters inside a native hut. Many persons in India are afraid to kill a cobra, saying that it would be against their religion to do so. This foolish idea helps explain why the snakes have become so common in most parts of the country.

Another reason for the high death rate is found in the fact that little clothing is worn by the majority of the people in India. Often they walk about barefooted and barelegged. This makes them easy marks for the snakes.

When full grown, a common cobra is likely to be from five to seven feet long. The so-called "king cobra" reaches a length of 12 feet or more.

Cobras have the strange habit of spreading out their necks. This is done by raising "rib bones" behind the head, and it explains the name of "hooded cobra." A cobra may raise its head and hood until the head is more than a foot above the ground.

Cobras are the favorite snakes used by snake charmers in India. While the charmer plays a tune, the snake lifts its head and sways back and forth. Strangely enough an expert charmer has little, if any, fear of these deadly snakes.

As I have said, many persons in India are afraid to kill cobras, but many other natives strike these snakes with clubs, or hurl large stones at them.

Fair Prospects Of Average Crops

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday there were "fair prospects" of an "average" wheat crop in western Canada this year. This estimate was based upon "conditions at the present time and barring the developments of adverse weather and moisture conditions during the critical period between now and the end of July," the bureau said in the sixth of a series of 15 telegraphic reports on prairie crop conditions.

Wearing white sports dresses, bright red blazers that are so much a part of their school uniform and red and white carnation corsage bouquets, ten senior girls, members of the 1946 graduation class of St. Margaret's School, received their leaving certificates in exercises held at the school Tuesday evening.

F. E. Winslow, chairman of the board of governors, presided.

Miss H. M. Pearce, the headmistress, in presenting the 38th annual report of the school, told the large audience of parents and friends that a consistently high average in scholarship had been maintained with 25 per cent of total enrollment of 165 receiving an average of 80 per cent on the year's work.

The speaker of the evening, Dick Diespecker, well-known radio commentator and author, reminded the graduation class that sentimental memories of school days were pleasant but the greatest thing they will carry into their grown-up lives will be the foundations laid in character building.

"You have learned to co-operate," he said, "you have been trained in teamwork, self discipline and the fundamentals of Christianity.

"With such a foundation," he concluded, "you are ready to accept your responsibilities to society, to take your place as good citizens in your community, and make a positive contribution in this sorely puzzled world."

During the evening Miss Helen Colman, president of the Old Girls' Alumnae, presented the Margaret Barton scholarship to Miss Sally Wood.

Other awards, presented by Mr. Diespecker, were as follows: Matriculation prizes, English, Elspeth Macdonald; history, Joan Haldane; mathematics, Barbara Cox; French, Margaret Ogle; Science, Sally Woods; home economics, Judy Wilks.

Catherine Johnson Married This Morning

Delphiniums and white gladioli in large blue pottery vases on either side of the chancel steps and pink and white snapdragons on the altar enhanced the Lady Chapel of Christ Church Cathedral for the wedding this morning at 11 of Catherine Effie Margaret Johnson and Lieut. Ian Butters, R.C.N.

Dean Spencer H. Elliott read the service for the only daughter of Mrs. J. H. Johnson, 1249 Rockland Avenue, and the late Maj. Johnson, and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butters, Fort William, Ont.

A picture gown of ivory corded silk, the full skirt falling from beneath a tiny peplum at the dropped waistline and the low neckline inset with net and edged with a tiny ruffle, was chosen by the lovely, dark-haired bride. Her veil of ivory net fell from a Mary Tudor headdress of pleated net centred with two ostrich tufts. The bridal bouquet was a shower of Johanna Hill roses and swainsona.

Given in marriage by her uncle, John Macdonald, the bride was attended by Miss Helen Baird, wearing a heavy crepe gown of chrome yellow, fashioned with dolman sleeves, high slashed neckline and front fullness in the draped skirt. Field flowers trimmed the brim of her matching half hat and she carried a fan-shaped bouquet of blue cornflowers.

Lieut. R. F. C. Choate, R.C.N., was best man and Lieut. Roger Oakley, R.C.N., ushered. A reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Macdonald, where Clarence Wallace of Vancouver proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Macdonald assisted Mrs. Johnson in receiving.

Taking leave of the guests, the bride wore an afternoon frock of blue figured crepe, black off-the-face hat, black accessories and a short white coat. Lieut. and Mrs. Butters will reside in Port Arthur, Ont., following a honeymoon at Silver Isle, Ont.

Delphiniums And Roses Setting For Wedding

First United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Tuesday, at 8, when Dr. Hugh McLeod united in marriage Margaret Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sprinkling, 993 Southgate Street, and Thomas Kershaw, son of Mrs. Marion Kershaw, 1054 Meares Street.

Baskets of delphiniums and roses made the wedding setting. J. Ingram Smith presided at the organ and Richard Brown sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the traditional white gown fashioned with satin bodice and bouffant skirt of heavy sheer with insets of satin and large satin bow caught at the side. A veil of brocade illusion net, slightly en train, fell from a coronet headpiece. Her only ornaments were a single strand of pearls and a gold watch, the gifts of the groom. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and deep red roses.

Miss Audrey Draper, maid of honor, and Miss Gertrude Lathe, bridesmaid, wore frocks of apple green and primrose taffeta styled alike. Miss Draper's headpiece was of pale green ostrich plumes, while Miss Lane wore primrose flowers in her hair. Matching milts and colonial bouquets completed the effect.

Robert Zellinsky acted as groomsmen, while Don and Neil Sprinkling, brothers of the bride, and Gordon Chambers were ushers.

A reception was held at the Goblin ballroom, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake set in white tulle, topped with a silver vase filled with red rosebuds.

The honeymoon will be spent up-island and at mainland points. For traveling the bride donned a crystal blue gabardine suit, fuchsia shortie topcoat, navy hat and accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Kershaw will reside in Victoria.

D.V.A. Asks Veterans Reply On Housing

The Department of Veterans Affairs appealed today to ex-servicemen covered by a postal survey on their housing needs to file returns without delay.

Of a selected list of 100,000

Canadian veterans who recently received questionnaire cards, only a relatively small proportion have mailed back the desired information, according to the department.

"In their own interests, the veterans surveyed should cooperate," said W. G. H. Root, district administrator, Vancouver. "The returns to date, which cover only a fraction of the total, might suggest that the housing situation for veterans is not as serious as has been thought. It would be most unfortunate if a misleading impression were gained because those in housing difficulties do not provide the information needed."

Victoria Nature Talks

By ROBERT CONNELL

MOUNT DOUGLAS
ON a recent Saturday the botanical section of the Natural History Society met at Mount Douglas Park and spent two or three hours on the south slope of the great mass known as Cedar Hill to all old-timers. The rich floral display of April and May was over but here and there interesting flowering plants were seen such as the handsome white and purple orchid known as the spotted coral-root, the dainty star-flower with its pink-tinged flowers, each on a slender threadlike stem, and the tall conspicuous fringe cup with its fringed white and pink flowers strung one above another along a foot or more of its hairy stem.

These plants were growing in the half-shade of the woods or the sunny borders, and in a soil that was revealed in the rude track as decidedly sandy. It recalled a visit I made here with a friend long years ago one hot day in summer when he showed me the pits of the antlion excavated in this loose material at the base of some of the old firs.

The antlion-proper is the larval stage of a harmless insect with thin delicate wings. The grub is described very fittingly by Essig as an "ugly, ferocious-looking creature." There are over 30 species recorded from British Columbia to Mexico. The grub on emerging from the egg digs its pit or pitfall in loose sand where ants are common and traps these active creatures in the loose slipping material.

The antlion lies concealed at the bottom with its jaws ready, but the slightest disturbance that suggests prey brings it into action. The pit is formed by a circular motion of the excavator during which the particles are ejected violently. This stone-throwing on a minute scale is also used to bewilder the prey and lessen its descent to the bottom. Boys know them as "doodle-bugs."

Where did this sand come from that mantles the south side of Mount Douglas and slopes away to the south as far at least as the Braefoot Estate, whence it can be conspicuously seen behind the Clendenning farm as a well-wooded ridge? We have to go back in the earth's history some thousands of years for the answer.

GLACIAL TRAIN

There were two distinct glacial eras here and between them the beautifully stratified deposits seen on Cordova Bay's southeast end were laid down in water as the first ice-cap receded. They consist of fine sands and clays lying on a thicker stiff clay at the base. The latter clay is the Maywood clay operated by the Baker Brick & Tile Company at the corner of Douglas and Tolmie.

When the second ice-cap moved south it gouged out the upper part of the existing deposits in places down to the water-holding Maywood clay as at Lost Lake, the Rithet Farm, and the Mount Tolmie valley, but where Mount Douglas raised its huge bulk it protected the sands and finer clays and they remained as a long sloping "train."

It is interesting to notice as we did the gradual growth of forest on this "train." First of all, we have a few scattered firs of large size whose branching shows that they were solitary trees. Here too and all along the long slope grew scattered oaks. Some of these attained large dimensions, but only one remains so far as I know.

Within the past 50 years or less a young Douglas fir forest has steadily moved south, engulfing the oaks and ancient firs. This of course has affected the native flora, the grassy oak glade type disappearing and over much ground being for the present at least a weedy contrast to the fir forests of greater age. Not alone in human affairs is change the law of life, and even in the wild the process of change is not always pleasant.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.

Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

This world might be saved a lot of worry and possibly more serious trouble if Premier Stalin would hire and take the advice of a good newspaper editor, a nationally-experienced politician, or public relations man from this continent.

I hear through central European diplomatic circles that:

1. Moscow was much surprised and taken aback by the extent of American reaction to Russian activities in Iran; that Premier Stalin couldn't understand what difference it made to the U.S. and, if he had anticipated the result, would not have considered the project worth the ensuing row.

2. Premier Stalin said some time ago that Russia did not need "much more" to complete her "security" campaign; and that whatever this may have been delayed in the hope that, first, the U.S. can be convinced that it is proper.

3. Russia actually desires to establish greater accord with the U.S. that Premier Stalin has said it must be done; that he sees little if any hope of a real accord with the United Kingdom, and, faced by the solidarity between Britain and the United States, has not been able to discover a practical means of combating the former while collaborating with the latter.

If these reports are true—and they come from sources which could know the tragedy of the present state of relations between the United States and Russia is greater than was previously apparent.

Anyone trained to appraise public opinion in the U.S. could have predicted the result of such a campaign as Russia has been waging since Germany surrendered.

The question of intent always has been of prime importance to Americans. Russia could have stumbled around considerably among her own neighbors, just as the country did years ago, and still have kept the sympathy of the United States if Russian actions had not aroused fear—fear that all of her neighbors faced the fate of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania; the fear that Russia puts her program for spreading her own power and ideology ahead of the United Nations' program for universal peace. But for these things, the United States might have remained the mediator she was last year, seeking a reconciliation of Russian and British interests.

YORK THEATRE

Wildfire is now being shown at the York Theatre. Photographed in gorgeous color, it is breathtaking in the beauty of its backgrounds and scenery.

The story tells of a group of crooked Westerners who, in an attempt to gather up ranches at ridiculous prices, raid the horse ranches in an attempt to discourage owners from carrying on. The horse stealing, they blame on a magnificent wild horse, known throughout the land as "Wildfire."

PLAZA THEATRE

Long acclaimed in Latin and European pictures, George Rigaud appears for the first time before American audiences as a romantic lead in "Paris Underground," now at the Plaza Theatre.

RIO THEATRE

Hailed by preview audiences as a potential record-breaker, Universal's "On Stage Everybody" is currently at the Rio Theatre with Jack Oakie, Peggy Ryan and Johnny Coy as its co-stars.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Favorites Advance

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (CP)—Seven of the eight seeded women's singles players, including top-seeded Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, advanced Tuesday in the all-England tennis championships.

Four of them were Americans and their display of power justified their choice as top-heavy favorites to keep the women's title in the United States.

Miss Betz led to a straight-set victory, 6-3, 6-1, over Josane de Meulemeester-Sigart, a Belgian and Wimbledon doubles champion of 14 years ago. Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, seeded number two and expected to meet Miss Betz in the final, trounced Mrs. J. W. K. Stork of Britain, 6-2, 6-0.

Britain's chief hope in the women's singles, Mrs. Kay Stammers-Menzies, seeded fourth, easily defeated a fellow-Briton, Miss P. A. O'Connell, 6-1, 6-1, in the first round.

ATLAS THEATRE

The customary social ordeal of entertaining a special dinner guest would have been only one more common occurrence for the morning social column and this great comedy now showing at the Atlas Theatre would never have been written if Monty Woolley had not slipped on the ice—breaking his leg and putting himself at the mercy of his very lovely hostess in "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Young Artists' Work Wins Admiration At Little Art Centre

Col. F. T. Fairley, Deputy Minister of Education, stressed the need for an enlightened public opinion with regard to art at the opening of an exhibition of child art at the Little Art Centre, Yates Street, Tuesday afternoon.

He said that his department was interested in fostering fine arts throughout the school system. The department, he said, had been supporting the Vancouver School of Art through special grants. Victorians, he stressed, must show an interest in the fine arts if the government was to lend support.

Portraits, landscapes and street scenes are included in the exhibit which shows the work of students of 13 years and less all done at the Vancouver School of Art. One of the most outstanding works is a scene of Granville Street looking toward the C.P.R. docks and the north shore executed by a 12-year-old girl.

Good figure work gives life to another scene from downtown Vancouver which has a theatre as background. One of the best portraits is the work of an 11-year-old artist showing the head of a boy. Well-chosen colors are a special feature of the landscapes many demonstrating both sweep and imagination.

The exhibition will remain open until July 5.

Two close decisions in three games took place Tuesday evening in the fastball circuits, K.V.'s Esquimalt, Meat Market, Penguin Cafe and J.H. & E. girls being victors, the latter by default.

A three-run ninth inning rally enabled K.V.'s to pull out with a 9 to 8 verdict over Cameron Lumber in the B-A men's division. In the same company Esquimalt marketeers nosed through the winner by a 5 to 4 count over Canadian Legion, Penguin Cafe, piloted by the good heaving of Kaye, took the measure of Army and Navy Taxi 12 to 4. J.H. & E. girls gained their default win at the expense of R.C.N. Armament Depot.

500 Boys Expected At Scouts' Camp

The Victoria District Boy Scouts' Association expects close to 500 boys to attend camp at Camp Bagnard, near Sooke, this year. The camp opens July 3 and will run until late in August. Scouts will go into camp under their own leaders, and while in camp will be a self-contained unit.

On August 3 there will be close to 240 Cubs and their leaders going out for a five-day picnic camp. Later on in August there will be an arrow course for patrol leaders, run at the camp, in scouting, swimming, axmanship, tree identification, compass work, cross-country hiking and pioneering activities on the camp program.

Boys attending camp from this district are not required to bring ration books with them, as ample supplies have been arranged through the co-operation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Showboat To Visit Coast Districts

Isolated communities of Vancouver Island, denied the opportunities of entertainment which city dwellers enjoy, will be visited by well-known Victoria entertainers during the next few weeks. Bert White's Showboat players, who were popular visitors before the war, have started on their cruise with a party of artists, including a swing band which plays for dancing. Among them are Bert White, violinist; Jerry Schofield, pianist; Frank Merryfield, magician; Dick Benz, marimba; phone player; Emile Kinnon, one man band; Waldon and White and Bob Warmington, saxophonist.

2 Die, 4 Injured As Blast Occurs On Victoria Ship

HALIFAX (CP)—Two men were fatally injured and four others injured when explosions shattered the stern of the Victoria-built tanker, Cypress Hills Park, Tuesday.

The Cypress Hills Park was launched here by the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. in December, 1943.

Adam N. Winters, 32, and Freeman Mercer, 19, lost their lives. Injured are Earle E. Nickerson, fractured pelvis; Harold Mason, second degree burns and lacerations; Clarence Buree, burns about the face and arms, and Lawrence Corkum, slight burns.

three-foot hatch opening when the first blast occurred, preceded by a flash of flame. He died while being taken across the harbor in a small craft.

Mercer's body was found among the debris at the base of the tank three hours after the explosions.

For several minutes after the detonations the deck was completely obscured by black smoke billowing from the bowels of the ship. Her starboard side was ripped open for some 30 feet amidships, and the lower portion of the steel sides was pushed outward more than three feet.

The men, members of a crew sent aboard the ship by Nova Scotia Boiler Chippers and Sailors, were preparing the vessel for turning over to French interests.

Eyewitnesses said Mercer enjoyed a manhole in one of the tanks, dragging a protective extension light with him.

BACK IN 1857 James M. Williams of Hamilton, Ontario, could scarcely have dreamed of such miracles-to-come as the motor car, the farm tractor and the domestic oil furnace. Yet in truth he might be called the father of these servants of mankind.

For 89 years ago, James Williams began to market oil obtained from holes scooped in the ground in Inniskillen Township of Lambton County, in the Province of Ontario. He set up Canada's first oil refinery in Hamilton, and opened up many new oil wells in the nearby oilfields. In the same year, other oil pioneers were at work in Pennsylvania, but the oil company, founded by Williams, is today believed to have been the first producing and refining company in North America.

In the years since those pioneer days, Williams' pioneer oil industry has grown from a small neighborhood affair to a Canada-wide organization, employing many thousands of Canadians, and serving millions of other Canadians in every city and hamlet and on every farm.

The Record in 1945

In 1945, for example, Imperial Oil Limited processed 104,700 barrels of crude oil every day in its seven Canadian refineries to meet Canadian needs. Its drilling crews drilled more than 26 miles of exploratory wells and about 25 miles of wells in proven oil fields—all in Canada. Thousands of railway tank cars and motor trucks were kept rolling to keep up with the task of distributing 570 different kinds of Imperial Oil products to Canadians in all parts of the country. Five of our nine largest sea-going tankers survived bitter submarine warfare and were almost continuously at sea. Thirteen lake tankers flying the Imperial banner moved busily from opening to close of navigation.

Altogether in 1945, Imperial Oil made 1,291,000,000 gallons of products available to Canadians. The company's average profit was four fifths of a cent per gallon.

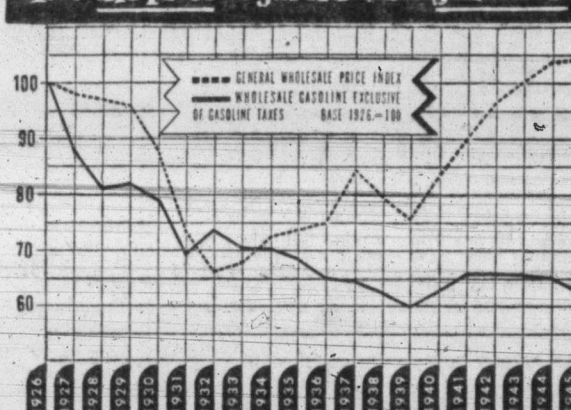

The oil industry is big because only a big industry could provide "what it takes" to fill the huge demands made upon it by the entire nation. It is big for the same reason that our Canadian railway systems are big—because it's a large-scale job to serve, economically and efficiently, the needs of all the millions of Canadians—in all parts of this country 4,000 miles wide and 1800 miles from north to south.

The Challenge of 1946

This first postwar year brings a bigger job than ever before. As we see it, our task is not only to improve consistently the quality and usefulness of our products, but to conduct our operations in such a way that we will make the best practicable contribution to prosperity and social welfare.

We're giving that job immediate attention. Plans already launched call for the building of new plants, the purchase of new ships, the drilling of more Canadian wells to increase our facilities and ability to serve you... and all Canada.

Many Mines Would Close If Union Demands Met, Operators Contend

Acceptance of the demands of the International Union of Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) by British Columbia's mining industry would mean many units of the industry would be closed and exploration work would cease, a special committee of nine operators told Mines Minister R. C. MacDonald today.

The statement was made in an eight-page reply to the union by a special committee set up at the request of the mines minister. It was made over the signature of H. T. James, chairman.

"In any mine the ore that is extracted varies in value from an amount which will barely cover the mining and treatment costs to much more profitable ore," the statement said. "As costs of production are increased low grade ore is no longer minable and must be left behind as waste."

"The contention made in the literature of the union that its policy would increase the number of jobs in the industry is therefore, utterly fallacious," the statement continued. "It would do exactly the opposite and, what is more serious, from the long-range point of view, it would discourage the development of new properties, without which the industry cannot survive."

The statement noted that the gold mining section of the industry has not enjoyed an increase in the selling price of its commodity, but nevertheless has offered wage concessions which would raise wages to 25 per cent above prewar rates. Further, the statement continued, copper units in B.C. were working on exceptionally low grade ore and have continued to operate, to the benefit of the province, merely because of exceptionally low costs due to excellent management.

The statement contended the union demands, which included a 29-cent-an-hour across the board boost and a 40-hour work week, were designed to be refused.

"Each local was advised to accept nothing but the full demands," the statement said. "We are now informed that any agreement must be approved by 'Chicago.' What a farce that makes of local bargaining committees."

The statement contended the 40-hour week and wage proposals amounted to the union demanding a day's holiday with pay per week and an increase in pay to boot.

Presentation of a mantle radio was made to Robert Livingstone by Acting Mayor Edward Williams today on behalf of the City Council and civic staff, on the occasion of Mr. Livingstone's retirement from the city engineer's department after 35 years' service.

Trade Boards Hold Annual Discussions

Forty delegates are in Victoria today to attend the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, opening tonight with a dinner at the Empress Hotel. Labor Minister George S. Pearson will speak.

Mr. Cuthbert Holmes will preside at the dinner, given by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce for the up-island delegates. Credentials and resolutions committees will be named to night, and Thursday the delegates will consider 17 resolutions submitted by the boards of trade of Parksville, Tofino, Port Alberni, Saanich, Malahat, Nanaimo and the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

One of the resolutions proposes prohibition of the export of raw logs from British Columbia.

'Civilian Jeeps' May Be Here Soon

That dream of going fishing or hunting or camping in a jeep, or using it on a farm, or as a maneuverable runabout in town, may start coming true soon for some Victorians, it was indicated today.

First Victorian to get a "civilian jeep" is Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward, who has purchased one for use on his Saanich farm.

Other civilian jeeps already are in British Columbia, according to the agent in Victoria, and some probably will arrive in the city shortly.

The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet July 6 at 6:30 in the Douglas Hotel. N. Parkins, delegate to the junior chamber regional convention, will report.

Two cases of 48 tins of soup were lost "somewhere on Douglas Street" Tuesday off the back of a MacDonald's Consolidated Ltd. wholesaler's truck, city police have been informed.

9,000 School Children Joyously Commence Summer Holidays Here

Blue skies and sea beaches were calling to some 9,000 school children from 32 elementary and high schools throughout Greater Victoria today, as their footsteps echoed down halls and corridors for the last time before the summer holidays.

There was happy chatter about "Where are you going?" and "What are you going to do?" as the few books left at school after exams were hurriedly toted under arms, to be packed away for two months.

It was holiday time again for pupils and some 340 teachers. The sea, the mountains, summer resorts or maybe just the beach near home figured in the plans of boys and girls relieved of the problems in arithmetic and history discussion.

J. P. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, reviewed the activities of the last three months, which he said had been exciting, not only for school staffs but for administrative and clerical staffs as well.

Union of school districts "has caused unprecedented problems in school administration, organization and supervision," he said.

CHANGES COMING
"There will be many new changes in September due to the readjustment of school attendance areas. The Cameron Report on education, coming into effect in April, brought a number of difficulties, but administration problems have been met and we expect things to run smoothly next year."

A total of 708 pupils were promoted to Grade 9 from schools throughout the Greater Victoria system, including Central Junior High, according to a report of John Gough, municipal inspector. There were 56 promotions in private schools.

Promotions are based on satisfactory work during the school year and results on standardized tests.

Strathcona Trust awards were made to Tillicum and McKenzie Avenue schools in the Saanich area, which were judged best in their respective classes for proficiency in physical education. Prize money will be used for school equipment.

Town Topics
First general meeting of the newly-formed Victoria Progressive Conservative Federal Association will be held in Macdonald Hall Thursday evening at 8. Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb will be guest speaker.

City Clerk M. F. Hunter has received a letter from the Vancouver Board of Trade stating that the resolution with regard to the absorption of taxi fares in the Victoria-Vancouver area is being considered by the transportation bureau.

An undetermined amount of men's clothing was stolen by thieves who broke into the Panatorium Dye Works, through a skylight Tuesday night. The office was ransacked. Only 41 cents was stolen in the entering of John Weston's service station. Burglars cut away wood around the lock in a door of the E. & N. Railway lands office on Store Street, but failed to open it.

Pearson Says I.T.U. Protest Out Of Order
Labor Minister George S. Pearson has advised the International Typographical Union, Local 226, which is on strike against the Vancouver Daily Province, that its protest against the appointment of a conciliation board to study the dispute is out of order.

Mr. Pearson has instructed the I.T.U. to appoint its representative to the conciliation board immediately.

The union, Mr. Pearson said, could send him its reasons for protesting the conciliation board, but these would not alter the matter in any event.

The I.T.U. has contended that the provincial government had no jurisdiction to order the appointment of a conciliation board.

Standard Furniture Hold Staff Picnic
The Standard Furniture Company held its annual picnic at Deep Cove this afternoon and approximately 90 employees and their families attended. Sports and games were held and prizes were presented by Mrs. A. S. Denny. A picnic supper was served by the Deep Cove Chalet and a departmental baseball game was held. This is the first such picnic held since the war and many of the staff who served in the forces were among those who attended.

V.I. Indians Still Primitive
The Indians who live on Vancouver Island consider salmon fish as a God-given food. For reasons lost in antiquity, twins born to some of the tribes are thought to have power to call these fish into the traps. All children are taught to swim and from an early age must arise at dawn each day to plunge into the cold, coastal waters.

Colored pictures and stories of the tribes which inhabit Vancouver Island are shown in the July edition of Coronet Magazine on sale today at your magazine dealers. Get your copy while they are still available.

Believe Local Boy Drowned With Cousin Near Bellingham

Tommy Plimley, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Plimley, Cordova Bay, is believed to have drowned with his five-year-old cousin in a boating accident on Lake Whatcom near Bellingham Tuesday evening.

An Associated Press report tells how the boys were boating off Blue Canyon Park at the southern end of the lake, and how their disappearance was noted one-half hour after they last were seen.

The five-year-old is Jimmy McIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern McIvor of Bellingham. Mr. McIvor is a brother of Mrs. Plimley. The Plimleys were vacationing with the McIvors, having left Victoria last Thursday. They were to have returned home today.

Tommy, whose father is superintendent of Thomas Plimley Ltd. auto and farm implements dealer, 4010 Yates Street, attended St. Louis College, where he had just completed the seventh grade. His only brother, Bill, 22 years, who recently returned to Canada from army service overseas, was with the family on the vacation trip, but was not with Tommy at the time of the accident.

Dragging operations for the bodies were being conducted today.

India Trade Chief On Island Visit

M. R. Ahujah, India government trade commissioner, arrived in Victoria by plane Tuesday night and spent a brief visit with Minister of Trades and Industry L. Eyles, before leaving today for Duncan where he will spend the day meeting fellow countrymen.

Mr. Ahujah, who was awarded the O.B.E. in the recent honors list, has just returned to Canada following a flying trip to India.

He is on Vancouver Island as a part of his regular yearly mission to Indians throughout Canada. He is accompanied by Mrs. Ahujah, who is taking advantage of the trip here to meet her fellow countrywomen living in British Columbia.

Mr. Ahujah and his party, which includes his secretary, J. Hundal, will be back in Victoria Thursday and he is expected to visit the Legislative buildings and the Department of Trades and Industry, where he will probably confer again with Mr. Eyles, and with E. G. Rowe, deputy minister of trades and industry, who is at present in Vancouver.

Following completion of his visit here, Mr. Ahujah and his party will leave Thursday afternoon for eastern Canada.

Annual Convention

Annual convention of the Baptist churches of British Columbia started today at First Baptist Church with a meeting of the board of trustees. The report of the board will be presented to the convention Thursday morning.

A pastors' and laymen's conference occupied the afternoon session, delegates discussing various aspects of revitalization of the church under chairmanship of W. G. Glenesk.

Delegates to the convention, numbering more than 100, will be registered Thursday morning, committees will be appointed, the treasurer's report received and new pastors introduced.

The convention banquet will be held after the afternoon session, during which R. W. Bishop will deliver his presidential address.

200 Island Cadets Will Attend Camps

About 200 Vancouver Island boys, ranging in age from 14 to 18, will get a 10-days' sample of army life between July 4 and 25, at two summer cadet camps at Chilliwack.

Representing cadet corps of island high schools and the affiliated corps of the Canadian Scottish Regiment and the R.C.E.M.E. in Victoria, the boys will join approximately 900 others from the mainland at the camps.

The cadets will travel with all expenses paid to camp, and will receive training in fieldcraft, signaling and wireless operation, and will watch demonstrations of artillery, tanks, armored cars and carriers, Bailey bridge-building, bulldozing, diamond drilling and portable sawmill operation.

The boys also will get rifle shooting and sports, with amphibious "docks" on hand to transport them to Cultus Lake for swimming.

The first camp will run from July 4 to 13, the second from July 16 to 25. Boys from all parts of Vancouver Island will attend both.

SILK IN ONTARIO

Ransom Cooke, 32-year-old former flight sergeant in the R.C. A.F., had 400 silkworms and an idea last year. Now he has an acre of mulberry trees and expects to have 20,000 worms by the end of next year. He claims there is no reason why silk can't be produced in Ontario as good as any Japanese silk. It will be four years before his mulberry trees are full grown. Meanwhile, he is feeding the worms with mulberry leaves he gets wherever he can find them.

REHABILITATION SUCCESS

Two years ago a German 88-mm. shell ended the war for a soldier who has now gone farming in the Fraser Valley on a former Japanese holding. After more than a year in hospital recovering from wounds received at Falaise, the veteran has taken his wife and three children to the farm, acquired through the Veterans' Land Act. Despite a partly disabled right arm, he tills his own ground and tends his livestock. He specializes in small fruits.

WANT TO BE HANGMEN

Two war veterans have now sought to become hangmen. The first was in Winnipeg. The second applied recently to the Department of Veterans' Affairs in Edmonton for information on employment possibilities as a hangman. Counsellors told him the opportunities were not good, and advised him to return to his prewar occupation as a farmer.

HAVE TAXI FLEET

A veterans' independent taxi cab association called Vita for short—is the latest co-operative venture of ex-servicemen in Toronto. The association consists of more than 30 drivers and cars, and another 60 or more veterans are waiting to be taken on strength.

WOMEN WANT FURNITURE

Figures of the Department of Veterans' Affairs show that 98 per cent of the ex-servicewomen who have used their re-establishment credit in British Columbia so far have done so to purchase furniture. In one month payment of re-establishment credit on behalf of 120 women discharged was authorized by the Vancouver D.V.A. officer.

NUMBERS LACKING

An average of 100 letters a day reach the head office of the Department of Veterans' Affairs without the senders' regimental numbers, according to Veterans' Minister Mackenzie. "Our central registry has nearly 13,000 files on Stritins alone," Mr. Mackenzie says, "and to track down a veteran with one of the more usual names is nearly impossible without knowing his number."

MANY STUDY OVERSEAS

British institutions of higher learning are now liberally sprinkled with Canadians taking courses which in almost every case are not available in Canada. It is a condition of approval for training in the British universities with D.V.A. assistance that the students must agree to return to Canada when their studies are completed.

DREAM COMING TRUE

The dream of Walter Callow, blind war veteran bed-ridden in a Halifax hospital, to provide especially-built buses for wheelchair veterans in Canadian and United States hospitals, has come nearer realization with the passing of the $8,000 mark in the drive for funds he started last winter.

HOTEL GUESTS SURPRISED

Sixty veterans of the Second Great War, working at a hotel in Del Mar, Calif., surprised guests recently by turning out in their former service uniforms for a day. The guests saw a former lieutenant commander tending hotel boilers, and majors, captains and lieutenants carrying luggage.

OVERCOMES HANDICAP

An ex-army veteran, who lost both legs in a mortar explosion in Italy, is operating as a commercial fisherman today in his own boat on the Fraser River. Fitted with artificial limbs at Shaughnessy Hospital, he manages to navigate and tend his gear himself. He intends to apply later for a small holding under the Veterans' Land Act, and to raise chickens as a sideline.

SOUGHT WEDDING EXPENSES

A war veteran applied recently to the Department of Veterans' Affairs for his re-establishment credit to pay his wedding expenses. Use of the credit for this purpose could not be authorized he was told, but he was advised to buy household equipment instead.

FROM HERE AND THERE

War Assets Corporation recently announced veterans will have preference on surplus fixtures available in a program of dismantling buildings on military establishments. Total Canadian Legion membership is now well over 250,000 with 1,700 units.

MORE MEMBERS SOUGHT

At Astra Branch of the Canadian Legion, open to veterans of all ranks in the air force, is seeking to increase its membership. The branch now has barely sufficient members to receive its charter. Functioning as a social club for airmen, and meeting in Britannia Branch hall, the air force branch has set the third

RECOVERY REMARKABLE

Critically injured five days before the end of the war in Europe, a former anti-tank sergeant in Belgium, the sergeant could neither walk nor talk. Now working part-time in a Vancouver broom factory, he is steadily improving his muscles and regaining his speech. Married, with five children, he hopes to study chemistry at University of British Columbia.

AN EXTRA cheque every second

You may receive Government cheques. You can cash them without charge at any branch of any chartered bank in Canada. In one year some thirty-six million cheques were issued for Family Allowances, the Armed Services, their dependents, Pensioners, employees of Crown Companies and the like. More than one for every second of the day and night!

Can you imagine the expense

to taxpayers if this money had to be distributed in cash through thousands of special pay offices... and the inconvenience of having to go to such offices to get your money?

Taken in Stride

Your bank performed many such public services throughout the war and is continuing to do so. It is taking these additional tasks in stride... competent to play its part in meeting Canada's needs of the future.

SPORT-TIPS

by Ace Pearson

SWIMMING #33

KICK UP, NOT DOWN

Let feet sink from surface—don't kick them back down. Concentrate on kicking up. Keep toes pointed out behind at all times! Kicking down holds you back!

FLUTTER KICK ACTION

NOT TOO DEEP

Don't let feet sink too deep before starting "up kick." About 12 to 18" is deep enough. If legs are short, use 12 to 15" depth; medium 13 to 15"; long 15 to 18".

LEGS TOGETHER

When kicking, keep legs together as close as possible. Knees should be practically touching. Wide leg position causes you to roll and slow down!
